About City Dogs Rescue

City Dogs Rescue is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization based in Washington, D.C., that adopts dogs from overcrowded and high-kill shelters. Since its establishment in 2011, City Dogs Rescue has saved more than 1,400 dogs and gained a strong community of volunteers along the way.

In Washington City Paper's 2015 Readers' Poll, City Dogs Rescue was voted Best Non-Profit, Best Charity Event, and runner-up for Best Place to Volunteer. The Catalogue for Philanthropy recognizes City Dogs Rescue as one of the top charities in greater Washington based on its impact, financial viability, and transparency.
